FARM NEWS

— By Tom Casaday, County Extension Chairman

4-H I hope you will notice the stories and pictures in the paper this week. Mr. Dan Presley and Mrs. Vir-

The theme this year is "4-H—A World of Opportunity." Many doors to great opportunities have been opened to both rural and city boys and girls through the 4-H Clubwork. Mrs. Dykes and Mr. Presley are giving the Coffee County 4-H Club program good leadership and I know that opportunities in the years ahead will increase even more for our young people.

CORN CONTEST
I have checked several corn fields in the past few days. Our yields are running real good; however, I haven't found anyone yet who has made 100 bushels per acre. Mr. A. W. Wilson had a field that made about 89 bushels per acre and his son's field averaged about 81 bushels per acre. I also checked a field belonging to Homer Wilson, and found that their fields made 86 bushels and the other field averaged about 43 bushels. These are the best fields in the mile apart, but one received a good rain that the other field didn't.

wise. Some lost several hundred pounds per acre due to weather conditions beyond their control. I believe, though, our farmers are more aware of producing high yields of peanuts than in previous years.

CATFISH PRODUCTION
Rex Lowery of Jack and Wilkinstown is growing a lot of catfish. He has had some trouble in his production plans, but generally he's getting good results. James Rowell of Rt. 2 Elba is making plans to put in a pond and stock it with catfish.

I believe that Lowery and Rowell and also several others can succeed in catfish production by doing a good job with management and keeping overhead low enough to realize good profits.

SOYBEANS

J. S. Moore, who works at the Elba Tractor Company, planted about six acres of soybeans this year and has a good bean crop. Moore is trying to learn something about growing them. Isaac Boutwell, who lives at 214 Pinehurst Drive in Enterprise, has planted over 200 acres up near Brundidge. Boutwell told me that he won't make much money on them this year but he is learning how to control and handle

This bears out some statements that Dean Bond, Soybean Specialist in Auburn, made concerning soybeans. Bond said that you have to learn how to grow them before you can be really successful. Of course, Tom Finley, Frank Beatty and Earl Henderson have planted beans off and on for several years and know some of the ups and downs of this crop.

Boutwell is planning to follow his beans with wheat. He wants to get the wheat planted before December 1 if possible.

FINISHING STEER is the most popular animal project among Coffee County 4-H'ers. Allen Weeks of Route One, Kingston, exhibited the Grand Champion Shorthorn at the District Fair. He hopes that he can have the Grand Champion steer for this coming spring show. He expects he can have the Grand Champion steer again next year.

VETERANS TO GET MORE SCHOOL MONEY

Veterans now in school will soon receive automatic increases in their educational allowances. The Veterans Administration will provide $100 more for each dependent child of a veteran. The President, James E. Doolittle, announced that the law by which the Veterans Administration is taking full-time courses and attending school will be increased from $100 a month to $150.

Dependents of veterans with one dependent will receive from $125 to $155, and veterans with two dependents will receive from $150 to $175. The additional $10 will be provided monthly for each dependent child.

Proportionately smaller increases will be made for part-time training.
